Dear Mr. Blais:

Thank you for the Blazeman Foundation for ALS's payment in support of Dr. Teepu Siddique's research at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine.

Physician-scientists at Feinberg engage in a synergistic approach to advance knowledge in practically every area of medicine. They conduct collaborative studies linking laboratory and clinical trials to help ensure that patients access new therapies as quickly as possible. Feinberg faculty-researchers work with colleagues in other departments, across the Northwestern campuses, with clinical affiliates, and in conjunction with scientists at other universities. Gifts such as yours aid these efforts.

The research findings at Feinberg continue to make possible many successful treatments for individuals living with medical conditions and diseases. Through your generosity and others, the Feinberg community helps improve human health in the United States and worldwide.

I am grateful for your partnership in this critical work.

Sincerely,
